WORK STARTED ON THE ELEVATOR

Will be Ready by the End of the Present Month

The Alberta Pacific Elevator company have now made a good start on their Gleichen elevator, the site being located along side the house-track and a little west of the section boarding house. The excavations have been made and the concrete foundations about completed. The lumber and other material to be used in construction arrived last week and the machinery is already on the site. The Gleichen elevator will be the same size as all the other elevators built by this company and will have a capacity of 35,000 bushels of grain and will be equipped with the most modern appliances.

This company has built between fifty and sixty elevators in Alberta during the past three years and Manager Strong who paid this town a visit recently, stated that his company has demands for more new elevators this year than they can build in time for use this season.

Mr. Pagett, the local agent, states that the Gleichen elevator will be ready for use by the end of the present month and that in the mean time the flat house will be used to handle the grain coming in. He states that the company is anxious to meet every requirement of the farmers and besides being ready from now on to pay them cash market prices at all times for their grain, will allow those not satisfied with the market price the privilege of storing grain for future sale, on which the company takes all risk of fire or other destruction. The company will also consign care for the farmers who desire to ship direct and take Fort William or Winnipeg inspection, weights and prices on delivery charging only the usual commission.

These arrangements should prove satisfactory to our farmers and a good thing for the country generally, and the Board of Trade and the citizens who worked so earnestly to secure this elevator may now rest assured that their efforts have been worth the while.

A big bunch of P. Burns round-up men enlivened Gleichen to a considerable extent with their presence on Tuesday and Wednesday. These cow-punchers are a lot of fellows and while they are a little too hilarious at times, it must be remembered they are used to the wildness of the great lone prairie and when they reach a city are apt to give vent to a few of their yells that are so necessary in their work. Most of the cowboys are thorough believers in irrigation and when they strike a head-gate show their appreciation in a manner that leaves little doubt that "irrigation doubles crops." These boys when they strike town are also good spenders and left several hundred dollars with our merchants and business men. One day evening a couple of good horses were got up, when they won about $55 from local sports.

The greatest sympathy is expressed with Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cory in their bereavement of their little daughter, aged 4 months, whose death occurred early Wednesday morning. The little one had been ill for several weeks and spent sometime in the Calgary Hospital but took a relapse a week ago and being very weak little could be done for her, although every effort was made. Mr. and Mrs. Cory left last night for Winnipeg where the remains will be interred.

Anderson & Neilson have contracted to plow and harrow 1,200 acres at the Namaka Farm, this fall.

O. Hedemark, who has had charge of the building of the Bow river bridge, left on Tuesday for his home at Blackfells, his work being completed. Before leaving he laid out a road up the hill on the south side of the bridge and east of the present steep grade. The new grade will be 12 per cent and when his report on it reaches Edmonton it is expected orders will be issued to have the work done. He also finished a small bridge across the West Arrowood creek on the river flat, at which the farmers have agreed to do the grading.

We are pleased to note an increasing desire on the part of our readers to secure at the first possible moment a copy of this paper and some call at the office and get a copy as it falls fresh from the press. The reason is we publish all the news all the time. We want you to help us make it still better by notifying us of the death, marriage or important transactions in which anyone from this district is concerned.

"These artists are great, they are more than satisfactory. They do the work with a fine reserve and touch the hearts of all, learned and unlearned. I congratulate any lyceum that secures their services." This is what Elbert Hubbard, the celebrated editor of the Philistine, said of Miss E. Pauline Johnson and Mr. Walter McKaye, who appear in Gleichen next Monday evening at 8 o'clock sharp.

Gleichenites have been asking for good shows and the Foresters' are undertaking to fill the demand. The first under the auspices of the Foresters' takes place next Monday night and on the attendance that night will largely depend whether or not they will continue in their efforts.

The members of the Gleichen Minstrel Troupe got together again last Thursday evening and had their first rehearsal for their second performance. Those who should know state the troupe will be better than ever and that the play they are now working on is an excellent one. It will, however, be some time before a date will be made.

Mr. and Mrs. Walters little boy, who was reported dangerously ill last week, died Thursday evening, the 15th inst., and was taken to Lethbridge for burial. The little fellow was only about five years of age and when brought from his home at Queenstown was very low. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Walters extend to them their sincerest sympathy in their great bereavement.

The death of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McKie's baby in the Calgary Hospital yesterday was learned here with deep regret by the relatives and friends. She had been ailing but a short while and the announcement of her death came quite unexpected to many. The remains of the little one were brought to Gleichen yesterday afternoon for interment. The funeral will take place from Mr. Lark-in's home about 4 o'clock this afternoon—Thursday.

Everyone should prepare to give the formal opening of the Bow river bridge full attention. A number of members of the government are coming from Edmonton for the occasion. The opening will take place about the end of the present month, and it is expected that the exact date will be made known very shortly.

J. W. Barnes well drilling machine met with an accident while operating at the Sarnia Livery Stables Monday. The tower breaking off near the centre. The well is already down over 110 feet, and is now about 12 feet in bed rock.

The building committee has secured J. B. Leggett's new implement warehouse in which to hold the exhibition. This without doubt is the best building that could be got for the purpose.

The Moseleigh, Hiecksbury and Brant farmers are coming in daily from the north to trade at Gleichen, the result of the new bridge across the Bow river.

Let us all boost the exhibition along to the success it should be.

GLEICHEN EXHIBITION

TWO DAYS—OCT. 14 & 15

$300 to be Given Away
in Prize Money

The directors of the Gleichen District Agricultural Association held a meeting in A. J. Campbell's office on Monday evening which was well attended and much enthusiasm displayed.

A number of communications being read the ordinary business was taken up and after much discussion it was unanimously voted to hold an exhibition this season on the 14th and 15th of next month in accordance with the suggestion of a letter from the Department at Edmonton, intimating that on the 14th the official judges would find it convenient to be in Gleichen.

It was found the question of a suitable site for fair grounds could not be settled upon in time for this year's exhibition as the communication read from Mr. Dennis offering 20 acres of C. P. R. land northeast of Gleichen street, appeared doubtful as to whether or not that amount could be obtained there suitable for the grounds. It was, therefore, decided to make an effort to secure a suitable building in town and use the old race course for sports, etc., a committee being appointed to locate such a building or if necessary have a temporary one erected.

It was then voted that the sum of $300 be raised by subscription as prize money for exhibits only and that any races or sports to be gotten up should not participate in it, but that a separate committee handle the races and sports, which was also duly appointed.

Committees were appointed to arrange prize lists for live stock, farm produce, ladies work, etc., with instructions for the various committees to meet Friday evening and complete the prize list and hand it to The Call for printing. Another committee on advertising was appointed to get out posters and make all other arrangements necessary.

Directors were appointed to take charge of the exhibits as follows: Horses Jas. Young; Cattle, Jno. Daloe; swine and dogs, C. A. Millie; poultry F. H. Blackburn; ladies work, A. D. Shore, industries, E. Griesbach; and grain, roots and vegetables, E. C. Henroth.

It was determined that all building exhibits should be in place by 6 o'clock on the evening of the 13th and live stock by 11 o'clock on the morning of the 14th. The first day's program will be devoted entirely to the exhibition and the second day to the races and sports, although the building exhibits only will be on view the second day.

On the evening of the 14th a dance will be given under the auspices of the Board of Trade and another on the 15th by the Agricultural Association.

Admission to the exhibition and all entries will be free of cost to all.

The finance committee composed of Messrs. Blackburn, Johnston and Griesbach are already busy and meeting with good success.

No effort will be spared to make the first annual meeting a success, and it is requested that everyone who has the district's best interest at heart will do their utmost to bring this about, as upon the success of the first fair largely depends the future.

This year the association will get no assistance from the Government towards a prize list, owing to the fact that all the appropriations had been made before our organization was completed here, but next year this society will be allowed the same grants as others throughout the province. Therefore, as the grant is made according to membership it will be of great advantage to obtain all the members possible this year.

The harvest thanksgiving services held in St. Andrew's church Sunday were well attended, every seat being occupied in the evening. The little edifice was prettily decorated with flowers, fruit, grain, grasses, vegetables, etc., proving the best possible evidence of the many reasons the members have for being thankful at the present time, and it is, indeed, doubtful if any other portion of this fair Dominion could show equal reasons at this time. The many varieties of farm products displayed told a story of how good the Great Giver of all good things has been to the people of this country. He must be a strange individual who could look upon them without feeling the gathering of the church members in this manner to acknowledge their sincerest appreciation in a fitting manner was justifiable. Rev. Mr. A. Fletcher of Okotoks, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Castle conducted the services, the former preaching appropriate sermons.

Robt. Rowe, who was sent up for trial charged with shooting a cow at Milo that invaded his grain crop, got out on bail last week after spending a month in the Calgary barracks. Bob has friends who would bail him out for any sum under a million, but the workings of the law up there is mighty slow compare with the police and he had begun to wonder if he would die in prison of old age, when the works started up and in two minutes he was allowed to go. Bob was always aware that the mild-eyed cow was an aggravating critter but never before had so much time to contemplate on her cussedness and has vowed to keep out of gun shot of her in future. While he boarded at the government house his friends were busy and cut for him all the grain the cow left.

Everybody is going to the show Monday night.

Our idea of a good citizen, and we are glad there are many in this community, is one always ready to give according to his means, to community enterprises. He takes stock in them all, and doesn't lose his faith if an occasional venture proves bad. He is not afraid to buy real estate and to pay what it is worth. He takes up his town at home and abroad, thinks it is the healthiest place on earth, believing it to be destined to be the biggest city in its section and wants to be buried here when he dies. And he's worth a whole regiment of the luke-warm kind.

And the landseekers continue to arrive in goodly numbers.

For the convenience of their clients in and surrounding Gleichen, Messrs. Short, Ross & Selwood, barristers, of Calgary, have decided to open a branch of their law office at Gleichen, where one member of their firm can be consulted on Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning of each week.

THE GLEICHEN CALL

Published Every Thursday in the heart of a Wonderfully Rich Ranching and Farming District.

Subscription, $1.50 a Year; Foreign countries, $2.00.
Exchange must be added on checks.

Legal Advertising 12 cents a line for first insertion and 8 cents a line for each subsequent insertion—12 lines to the inch. Locals 10 cents a line. Lost, Found, Astray and Want advertisements 50 cents one insertion or three insertions for $1. Display ads $1 per column line per month. Changes should reach this office not later than noon each Monday.

W. PARK EVANS,

Publisher and Proprietor.

Gleichen, Alberta, September 17, 1908.

In order to make our subscription list reach 1,000 The Call now offers to new subscribers this paper from now until December 31st, 1909, for $1.50. This will just about pay for the paper and postage but this paper must reach every home in this big district. And it is as near giving something for nothing as we can come to it. Newspaper has continually advanced in price and is now double the price it was two or three years ago and freight is no less. More, when The Call reaches the 1,000 mark we will make it double the present size, thus our present subscribers will get a benefit. We want to make The Call the best and most widely read weekly in the Province and will not be happy until it is. The offer is made for cash in advance and the first to subscribe will get the most for their money. $1.50 to Dec. 31, 1909.

The Chief Fire Guardian reports that upwards of eighty convictions have been secured by the R. N. W. M. P. and fire Guardians under the Prairie Fires Ordinance since first of January. Owing to the number of fires and the great amount of damage caused thereby it is hoped that settlers, campers and sportsmen will use every precaution to prevent the spread of fire. The department would recommend that every farmer and rancher construct fire guards around buildings and stacks by plowing to a width of not less than 20 feet, the wider the guard the better. Do not attempt to guard property by burning a guard without having the space to be burned surrounded by a ploughed guard of not less than 20 feet in width, otherwise the party so doing will be liable to prosecution for infraction of the Ordinance.

Medicine Hat Times man, W. Lacey Amy, has been mailing price lists of alleged cheap job printing to Gleichen business men. Most of these lists have been handed into The Call with the intimation that the receiver had no use for them and some choice expressions of how small the Times man must be to invade the territory of a new paper like The Call. One man remarked that he would not send out of town for his printing if the Times gave it to him for nothing as a local office kept all the money in town and done himself and the district more good than all the printing used here is worth. As a matter of fact the Times' prices are not cheap in any way and The Call will meet them, of course, using the same quality of paper, etc.—that's the point. More, we are prepared to carry the war into the enemy's camp if that is what Grand Ma Lacey wants, but before doing so we invite the old lady to bring up some knitting and talk it over.

One Merchant's Way

From a cash boy, whose pay was $2.50 a week, to one of the most forcible, enterprising, and distinctively original merchants in New York is the record of John Miles, wholesale dealer in millinery.

John Miles believes in work, and plenty of it, yet each one of his 500 employees is as happy as any member of his home family. He favors generous vacations, and looks after their welfare with the solicitude of a father when illness visits them. Out in Colorado there is a smitten superintendent, whose salary has been going to him regularly every week for nine consecutive months.

John Miles is the pioneer of the cash system of the millinery trade. He employs no traveling salesmen and relies entirely for business on advertising, in which he displays originality. Among his axioms are:

"Do all the good you can, in all the ways you can, at all the times you can, to all the people you can, as long as ever you can."

"If you are built of the right kind of timber you will succeed; if not, in spite of all your dreams and wishes, you will go to the grave with the word 'broke' etched on your tombstone."

"If you are fortunate enough to be born in poverty, consider yourself lucky as poverty has been the priceless spur in all the great achievements all down the ages."

"America," says John Miles, "exceeds the world in the manufacture of high grade silks, ribbons, and velvets and yet American women imagine their choicest silks and ribbons are imported."

He is interested in humanitarian movements, and speaking of his creed he says:

"There's a hundred different roads to heaven, and no ecclesiastic has a right to tell that his road is the 'right one' and all the others are wrong. I believe every man was born to think for himself, and the hand that grasps the other with uplifting touches regardless of creed or nationality, belongs to the true church of the hour."

NOTICE

Odd Numbered Sections.

As already publicly announced, odd numbered sections remaining vacant and undisposed of will become available for homestead entry on the coming into force of the Dominion Lands Act on the 1st September next. As the records of only the even numbered sections have hitherto been kept in the books of the various land agencies in the Western Provinces and the time having been very limited since the passing of the Act within which to transfer the records of all odd numbered sections from the head office at Ottawa to the local offices, it is possible that the transfer of records in some cases may not have been absolutely completed by the 1st September. In any case where the record of any quarter section has not been transferred, application will be accepted, but will have to be forwarded to head office to be dealt with. As it has been found impossible as yet to furnish sub-agencies with copies of the records of odd numbered sections and in view of the large probable demand for entries, all applicants for entry upon odd numbered sections are strongly advised to make their applications in person at the office of the Dominion Lands Agent and not through a Sub Land Agent. Applications for even numbered sections may be dealt with through the Sub Land Agent as before if desired.
J. W. GREENWAY,
Commissioner of Dominion Lands.

PEN AND INK PIRATES.

Literary Theft Is Not Stealing; It Is Called Genius.

All authors steal. The capacity for stealing with art and elegance is one of the most potent equipments of the literary man.

Shakespeare was a magnificent thief.
He stole whatever he could lay his hands on in a literary way and never marred in the stealing. He stole "Measure For Measure" from a play called "Promos and Cassandra." He stole "Hamlet" from a play by George Kyd. "Romeo and Juliet" he stole from Italy.

Sir Walter Scott stole with a sublime talent. He stole from antiquarian records. He stole from Goethe. He stole from Sheridan.

Charles Reade claimed the right of the literary artist to set jewels, even though the gems are the property of another.

Alexandre Dumas, the author of "The Three Musketeers" and "Monte Cristo," was one of the most remarkable thieves in literature. In one single year his name was attached to no fewer than forty different books. Not only did he steal unblushingly from every author who came handy, but he employed numerous literary ghosts and passed off their work as his own.

Brought to book, he had a ready reply. "The man of genius does not steal," he said; "he only conquers."

Alexander Pope, who made thousands of pounds by his poetic translation of Homer's "Iliad," was an indifferent Greek scholar. In addition to stealing from previous translators, he employed others to help and then claimed the whole work as his own.

When he translated "The Odyssey" he kept the public in ignorance that only twelve books could be called his and that the rest were the work of men whom he paid badly.

The arguments in Pope's "Essay on Man" were furnished by Lord Boling-broke, and his "Essay on Criticism" was a poetic version of the conversation of his intimates.

Richard Brinsley Sheridan, wit, dramatist and politician, stole his famous characters Charles Surface and Joseph Surface in "The School For Scandal" from Tom Jones and Bill in Fielding's well known novel, and he abducted Tabitha Bramble and Sir Hubert Mackintosh and transformed them into those still more entertaining characters Mrs. Malaprop and Sir Lucius O'Trigger in "The Rivals."

Of modern authors who stole and are stealing still the present writer does not say a word. Only history can afford to be free spoken.—Exchange.

Word Painting.

Mrs. Bradley, when questioned by a fellow traveler in the Pullman car in regard to her home, launched forth into a rather long and detailed description of its charms. Her little girl, Grace, who had been reading when she began to speak, soon closed her book and listened with great interest.

"It must be very pleasant," remarked the chance acquaintance, somewhat perfunctorily, when Mrs. Bradley finished, and Grace, her eyes gleaming with enthusiasm, said: "Oh, it must be perfectly lovely! What place is it, mamma?"

"Why, our own home, of course,"
answered the mother, somewhat embarrassed.

"Oh, dear," said Grace, sighing, "how much better it sounds than it looks!"

Need and Needs.

Perhaps many persons have wondered why we are taught to say "He need not do that" instead of "He needs not do that," as the singular pronoun, he, requires under ordinary conditions the singular form of the verb. The reason is that in a sentence of that kind, a negative sentence, expressing requirement or obligation, "need" becomes an auxiliary and takes no change of termination in the third person singular.
This exception is laid down in the grammars.

The Iron Crown.

The iron crown of Lombardy, so called from the narrow iron band within it supposed to have been beaten out of one of the nails used at the crucifixion, was probably first worn by Agilolph at his coronation in 561. The historic crown after gracing the brows
of such sovereigns as Charlemagne,
Henry of Luxemburg, Frederick IV., Charles V. and the great Napoleon was in 1806 given up to Victor Emmanuel and is now preserved with great care at Monza, near Milan.

Extravagance.

"This is your little sister, Tommy,"
said the father, showing him the baby.
"You will love her dearly, will you not?"

"Yes, of course," replied Tommy, inspecting the latest arrival, "but it'll cost a great deal to keep her, won't it?"

"I presume so,"
"Yes," said Tommy, with a long drawn breath, "and when I asked you the other day to buy me a white rabbit you said you couldn't afford it."

This Is a Fact.

"When a man loves a girl in a novel
he raves about her through forty chapters. In real life he never mentions her name."

"What's the application?"
"Merely that realism in a love story is not possible."

Still Faithful.

Mlle. Suzanne—is that young man still under the window? Maid—Well, mademoiselle, he's running around in the snow to keep himself warm, but he goes in the shape of a heart all the time.—Bon Vivant.

To the People of Gleichen and Vicinity

We wish to state that owing to circumstances unavoidable, we have been delayed to a certain extent with the building of our elevator, and we will be compelled to handle grain in the flat-house until October 1st, when we will be prepared to take grain in the new house.

Any one not satisfied with the market price may have the privilege of storing grain for future sale, on which we take all risk of fire or other destruction.

We will also consign cars for any person wishing to ship direct and take Fort William or Winnipeg inspection weights and prices on delivery, charging the usual commission.

TOWN AND DISTRICT

Slaughter sale in wall paper now on at S. H. Firth's.

What ever can be wrong? No dance for a whole week.

Miss Buckley left on Monday to take a position at Morley.

Read S. H. Firth's discount ad and then come and see him.

S. H. Firth is offering wall paper at from 3 cents per roll up.

R. Sheet was here from Whitewood a couple of days this week.

Mrs. R. and Miss S. Duffield arrived from British Columbia Monday.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday were among the hottest days this year.

Grain is gradually beginning to come in for shipment from all directions.

Beaupre's sale is the talk of the whole country and the bargains are fascinating.

Already the boys are preparing for "lope" hunt praying that it may not all be "lops".

If your eaters are not in good working order you should not fail to see Lake the dentist on Friday or Saturday.

J. E. Kitup was a very ill man several days the past week, but is improving rapidly under Dr. Fairquharson's treatment.

Gleichen's bumper crops are now about all cut and ware from the elements and our farmers are now wearing the smiles that don't wear off.

Mrs. C. A. Millie returned Saturday afternoon from Medicine Hat hospital with her little daughter, who has quite recovered from her recent illness.

Geo Moss, who is building a brick house for Mr. Arnold, on the farm east of town has decided to carry on the business as a bricklayer and plasterer.

Harold was overflowing with thanksgiving last Sunday and rang the bell no less than 14 times. There's no rest for the wicked when that gentleman gets on the war path.

Work on the new Methodist Church building was commenced last week and already the walls are up and the roof nearing completion. The main building is 25x40 feet, with a small vestry at the rear.

Jas. Short, K. C., of the firm of Short, Ross & Selwood, barristers, of Calgary, spent from Monday until yesterday in town, doing a little duck hunting while here.

The committee in charge of the subscription list for prizes at the Gleichen Exhibition report that during their first day's canvass they obtained considerably over $200 in cash besides several special prizes.
